Mrs. Evans was a devout Christian and a staunch worker in the Christian churches of both Kansas Cities, having been a charter member of the first Christian church established in Kansas City. She will be remembered by many of her friends and associates for her timely and friendly counsel and advice. BENNETT TAILORING CO. SHOWS PROGRESSION.
A NEW LOCATION WITH NEW IMPROVEMENTS.

All successful businesses have had to undergo several stages of development before they reached what might be termed an eminent prosperity, enjoying the confidence and patronage of a large, industrious, and money-spending people. We believe this peculiarly so in our case. We are pioneers in the cleaning and pressing business and our experience together with practical and advanced methods has been our success, and has enabled us to keep abreast with the wonderful progress made in the art of tailoring, cleaning and pressing. Thus, from the hand to hand methods in narrow quarters, we have progressed to the use of the most modern devices and facilities in a large and adequate store room where we can work, and serve our customers in a bigger and better capacity than ever.

Our new location at 1610 East 18th street is especially adapted for our use. Large and commodious, we have been able to make improvements that we could not have done in our old location.

Business comes to merit, as we already have the business (and have had for years), you can deduct from this that we have the merit. We have always demonstrated this in our process of steam, French dry cleaning, dyeing, pressing and repairing, and especially ladies' wearing apparel, handling the same with such pains and care that satisfaction is assured from the beginning. So we are employing more help, serving more customers and putting out better work. Overcoats have begun to come in, and people are sending us their winter suits to be renovated and made young again. Bring in that overcoat, that suit, and that cloak too, remembering also that we make old hats new. Remember the new location. You can see it a mile—well lighted, with attractive signs and business-like front at 1610 East 18th St. Bell phone East 4746.

HER RECORD OF PROPOSALS
From This It Will Be Seen That Modern Girl Has a Variety to Choose From.

No. 1—The indecisive kind. Hung around nearly every night for four weeks, took me to the theater only twice, and finally wound up by asking me if I would mind waiting five years.

No. 2—Sent me a long letter and said if I wouldn't have him he would kill himself. And then he proposed to my dearest friend two days after I turned him down.

No. 3—Wanted me to live on a farm after he had finished at Harvard.

No. 4—Said he had a "plan" which if it matured would enable him to get married, and in such a case he hoped I wouldn't forget him.

No. 5—Elderly widower who wore a white bow tie and a frock coat. He informed me privately that he was a devil when he got started.

No. 6—Gave me a financial statement of his affairs and asked me point blank to be his wife.

No. 7—The one I took—the only one who didn't have to ask me—Compiled for "Life by a Popular Young Girl."

Why Deplore Age in Humanity?
In nature, much as we rejoice in new births and tender adolescences, our deepest sentiment is reserved for the things which impress us with their antiquity. We have woven about them a phraseology of their own. We like to talk about the hoary ocean; the gray old rocks against which its spray is dashed; the mountains which still stand where they stood when man first opened his eyes upon the universe; the forest primeval; our primitive mother earth. These and a thousand other poetic figures familiar to us from childhood show by the responsive echo they never fail to awaken in our hearts, how ready mankind is to treat platitude of years as a synonym for steadfastness, the one quality which lies at the foundation of all confidence and real respect. And when we find that among inanimate things old age, so far from being repellent, exerts a positive attraction, why are we so prone to deplore it as soon as it threatens to touch ourselves?

Changing Towns' Names.
The individual may go under an alias at small expense, but the village or town that wants to change its name must pay. Rugeley once wanted to be called something else to dissociate itself from a notorious murder. Slough has unsuccessfully tried to turn itself into Upton Royal. But the great triumph was that of Milton—one of the many which disliked being called Milton-next-Sittingbourne. It acquired a privy council order that it should be henceforth "Milton-Regis." But individual or town yet need not change your name unless you have disgraced it. Your name need never disgrace you.—London Chronicle.
